

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

The Milkmaid.

Across the grass I see her pass;
She comes with tripping pace—
A maid I know—and March winds blow
Her hair across her face.
With a hey, Dolly! ho, Dolly!
Dolly shall be mine
Before the spray is white with May
Or blooms the eglantine.

The March winds blow, I watch her go;
Her eye is bright and clear;
Her cheek is brown and soft as down
(To those who see it near)
With a hey, Dolly! ho, Dolly!
Dolly shall be mine
Before the spray is white with May
Or blooms the eglantine.

What has she not that they have got—
The daisies that walk in silk?
If she undo her kerchief blue
Her neck is white as milk.
With a hey, Dolly! ho, Dolly!
Dolly shall be mine
Before the spray is white with May
Or blooms the eglantine.

Let those who will be proud and chill;
For me, from June to June;
My Dolly's words are sweet as curds,
Her laugh is like a tune.
With a hey, Dolly! ho, Dolly!
Dolly shall be mine
Before the spray is white with May
Or blooms the eglantine.

Break, break to hear, O crocus spear!
O all Lent lilies, flame!
There'll be a bride at Easter tide,
And Dolly is her name.
With a hey, Dolly! ho, Dolly!
Dolly shall be mine
Before the spray is white with May
Or blooms the eglantine.

The Hamiltons' New Home.

Mr. and Mrs. Schuyler Hamilton, whose Richmond home, No. 615 West Franklin Street, was sold on Wednesday last to Mr. W. H. Miles, have recently purchased from the executors of the late Henry I. Hoyt, of Norwalk, Connecticut, one of the largest and handsomest residences in that city, left vacant by its owner's death some years ago.

Under Mr. Hamilton's orders, the house will be thoroughly renovated for his occupancy. It is described as facing on Franklin Avenue, Hillside, Maple Street and Prospect Avenue, and as being extremely desirable. Since coming to Richmond several years ago, Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton and their daughter, Miss Ruth Hubbard, have been most agreeably identified with social life in this city. The fact that they have decided to remove to Norwalk will be regretted by many friends here, Mr. Hamilton being identified with club life as well as society.

Miss Hubbard made her debut about two years ago, and has been much admired and very popular since. Her engagement to Mr. Fletcher Montgomery, of Stamford, Conn., has been recently announced.

Caskie—Jackson.

The wedding of Miss Grace Jackson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dabney Caskie, to Mr. George Evans Caskie, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. George Evans Caskie, and nephew of Mr. James Caskie, of No. 2 North Fifth Street, this city, was celebrated in Grace Memorial Church, Lynchburg, Va., April 6th, at 9 o'clock P. M., the Rev. J. J. Lloyd, of Grace Memorial Church, and the Rev. James D. Coxon, of First Presbyterian Church, Lynchburg, officiating.

Decorations for house and church were in palms, potted plants and cut flowers. The bride's procession was led by a vested choir singing, "O, Perfect Love," Mandelstam's Wedding March, was played as a processional, and the choir sang the wedding chorus from Lohengrin as the bride party left the church.

Miss Lucy M. Jackson, the bride's sister, was maid of honor and Mr. James Caskie, a brother of the groom, the best man. Misses Rosalie Jackson and Maude Caskie were bridesmaids; Mrs. G. E. Vaughan and Mrs. John L. Caskie, matrons of honor. The list of groomsmen included Mr. J. Ellis Nicholas, Mr. Lawrence Pierce, Mr. William P. Hill and Mr. James Coleman. The ushers were Mr. Thomas Murrell Fleming, Mr. H. H. Harris, Mr. Clinton DeWitt, Jr., Mr. Giles H. Miller and Mr. W. Dabney Jackson.

The bride entered with and was given away by her father. She wore a white lace robe over chiffon and tulle, with princess lace trimmings. Her veil was caught with orange-blossoms and she carried a white prayer-book. The ring used was that with which the bride's mother was wedded.

The maid of honor was gowned in figured white net trimmed in medallions and valencienne, and worn over tulle. Her flowers were Bride roses. The bridesmaids and matrons of honor also wore white and had bunches of white sweet peas.

A reception was given after the ceremony, in the home of the bride, to the bride party, at which a handsome display of wedding gifts was shown. Mr. and Mrs. Caskie will spend their honeymoon in an extended Western tour. Out-of-town guests at the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. James Caskie and Mr. William P. Hill, of Richmond; Mrs. Lovine, of Oak Ridge, Nelson county, Va.; Mr. Frank Heidecker, of Rustburg, Va.; Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Jackson, of Roanoke, Va.; Mrs. Virgil Ligon, of Nelson county, Va.; and Mr. J. B. Bell, of Petersburg, Va.

An Emperor's Daughter Stands Alone.

By GEOFFREY CHAUCER.

Geoffrey Chaucer, often called the father of English verse, was born some time after 1340, served with Edward III. in the French campaign and was imprisoned in France. He was on an embassy to Genoa in 1372, met Petrarch, and got from him the tale of Griselda and other Italian legends. On his return he occupied the positions of royal clerk and diplomat. He last days were spent in obscurity. He died in London in 1400, and was buried in Westminster Abbey. His "Canterbury Tales" are the most important work of the period. He was the first English writer to make a living by his pen. He was a man of many talents, a poet, a writer, a diplomat, a statesman, a soldier, a man of letters, a man of the world, a man of the church, a man of the state, a man of the people, a man of the age.

"Dan Chaucer, the first warbler whose sweet breath
Pretended those melodious birds that fill
The spacious times of great Elizabeth
With sounds that echo still."

HAVE ye not seen some tyme a pale face
Among a press, of hym that hath be lad
Toward his death, where as hym gat no grace?
And swich a colour in his face hath had,
Men myghte knowe his face that was blisad,
Amonge alle the faces in that route;
So stant Custance, and looketh hire about,
O, queenes, lyvyng in prosperite!
Duchesses, and ladyes everichone!
Havoth som routhe on hire adversite!
An Emperours daughter stant alone;
She hath no wight to whom to make hir mone!
O, blood royal, that stondest in this drede,
For been thy frendes at thy grete nede!

This Alla, kyng, hath swich compassioun,
As gentill herte is full of pitee,
That from hire eyen ran the water doun.
"Now hastily do feche a bowen," quod he,
"And if this knyght wol sween how that she
This woman saw, yet wol we us avyse
Whom that we wote that shall beon our justise."

A Briton book written with Evauingles
Was fet, and on this book he swore anon
She gilty was, and in the meene whilles
An hand hym smoot upon the necke boon,
That doun he flit atones as a stoon;
And bothe hise eyen broste out of his face
In sighte of every body in that place!

A voys was herd in gooselande gyllous,
And seyde, "Thou hast desceyvedd gyllous,
The doghter of boochi chirche in heigh presence;
Thus hastou doon, and yet holde I my pees;
Of this mervelle agast was al the prees;
As mazed folk they stoden everichone,
For drede of wreche, save Custance alone.

Groot was the drede, and eek the repontance,
Of hem that hadden wronge suspicioun
Upon this sely, innocent Custance;
And for this miracle, in conclusioun,
And by Custance's mediocoun,
The Kyng, and many another in that place
Converted was—thanked be Christes grace!

Keith—Willis.
The marriage of Miss Florence Allene Willis to Mr. Charles R. Keith took place Wednesday evening at 8:30 o'clock in the parlors of the home of the Rev. J. B. Hutson. Only the immediate family attended.

Mr. and Mrs. Keith will be at home to their friends after April 10th at No. 218 South Harrison Street.

Miss Cadot at Club.
Miss Blanche Cadot, who talks at the Woman's Club this afternoon at 3 o'clock on "Health Culture," and on how to keep the wonderful mechanism of the human body in a healthy condition, is a cousin of Mrs. Robert M. Blenkinship and Mr. Clarence Cadot. She is also a lifelong friend of Archbishop and Mrs. John Moncre.

Miss Cadot comes to Richmond with her work well endorsed by the physicians of Charleston, W. Va., where she has spent the last three years. Her last long hour line of work has preceded her. Those who attend the talk at the club will not only be instructed as to "Health Culture," but will have an opportunity to observe Miss Cadot's perfectly simple and natural methods.

She will make the fact perfectly evident that she is not a "Physical Culturist" in the ordinary acceptance of the term.
